

BRISTOL CURRY CLUB WEIGHS IN TO HELP YOUNG BOXERS AT BARTON HILL AMATEUR BOXING CLUB

THE IMPACT

The Bristol Curry Club has donated £500 to Barton Hill Amateur Boxing Club, a club run by local volunteers with the aim of keeping local kids and young adults inspired.

"The donation was spent on new equipment, which allows us to keep the club open to anyone who wants to come and train"

THE STORY

Barton Hill Amateur Boxing Club is at the heart of the local Barton Hill Community, coaching around 125 kids and young adults every week despite little-to-no funding. It is run entirely by volunteer coaches who are dedicated to supporting their community's youth through building confidence. This confidence provides the young boxers with a crucial tool in their toolbox for pursuing further opportunities. Through AskingBristol, Bristol Curry Club donated a portion of the money raised from their British Curry Day Campaign to Barton Hill ABC, enabling the club to buy new equipment and keep the boxers engaged with their training.

"We're run entirely by volunteers, so any funding we come by is a massive help to the club. The donation was spent on new equipment, which allows us to keep the club open to anyone who wants to come and train."

– Tom Foley, Founder, Barton Hill Amateur Boxing Club

"Helping young people in our communities be more active is something we were very keen to support, so it's great that this money can be used to support a local group aiming to do just that."

– The Arjee Bhajee, contributor to the Bristol Curry Club's fundraiser

Barton Hill Amateur Boxing Club is based in East Bristol and is run by dedicated volunteers with the aim of keeping young people active and inspired.
